

The Chicks are Hatching at the Farm!

Come by the farm and visit the chicks. They are out of the incubator and in the chicken coop "peeping" and enjoying life at Danny's Farm

See the eggs? We named each egg after the kids, volunteers, and staff who attend Danny's Farm regularly

Many thanks to Joyce Foster for donating the incubator and eggs to help the kids enjoy the chick hatching

Danny's Farm pulls the community together

On May 4th, the Outward Bound Los Angeles (OBLA) Youth Advisory Council (YAC) joined Danny's Farm in celebrating Dodger's Day to fight autism. The YAC assisted with directing traffic, greeting guests and enjoyed the opportunity to visit the farm animals. A highlight was meeting Dodger 2nd baseman, Orlando Hudson!

OBLA is located in NW Pasadena. The organization serves at-risk youth by introducing them to the outdoors, learn about environmental issues and build teamwork.
